Bon Jour My Darling! I played our song tonight and remember how they played it for us the second time you proposed to me in Montreal. I remember all the times we danced in the kitchen when we heard it on the radio. We even danced to that song when it was performed by other artists and chuckled over the fact that no one else could sing it like the Righteous Brothers but enjoyed one another's embrace just the same. I love you My Darling and feel warm with all of the memories we created together and have left behind for me. Until we meet again, save that last dance for me. Love Always! Rose “ Bon Jour!

I love you and miss you Michael. I brought your cremains home on Veteran's Day. Welcome Home! It was not exactly a return home from a hunting trip and it was not exactly a return home in your red flannel shirt. But, you returned home to a place of love and warmth that was created by both of us. Until I meet you in heaven, I will always cherish the wonderful times we had and shared together. When I rejoin you in heaven, we will create new and wonderful times to share together. I am carrying on our tradition of looking up old TV shows, actors, and actresses with our community of neighbors.

Loving You Forever and 2 Days!

“ You were my older brother for 67 years. I have known you longer than anyone else. For many years now in your late night calls to me you shared your thoughts, dreams, wishes, needs, feelings. That smiling face the world saw was not always how you really felt.

You were a giver and like most givers you could not fathom why some people only took and did not give back. Not giving things but time, affection.

We had a wonderful month together last March and you asked me why your life could not be like that always - good times, laughter, fun, adventure but most of all the sharing of the little things in life.

As you look down now you see those who really loved you, those whose sorrow and tears at your funeral was genuine. And you see those who only wanted you so you could help them.

Your family will care for your boys and grandchildren. The boys will care for each other.

You will be kept alive in the hearts of your grandchildren.

“ Yesterday was another event of the continuing steps taken after a loved one passes. We had a military ceremony for my husband and it was very touching. So much so, that it can only make one feel proud to be an American. As my son held my hand through the ceremony, I couldn't help but feel blessed that I have wonderfully supportive children, daughters-in-law, sisters, friends, neighbors, and co-workers. All three of Mike's brothers are suffering a tremendous loss as well but have embraced me with their own sympathies and pains during this very difficult time.

I am grateful to my sister-in-law Joanne for her kind words of sympathy and encouragement. I have always admired her beauty, not only on the outside, but on the inside. Joanne, if you see this message, please contact me because I heard Stephen was not feeling well. I have no way of contacting you on my end because Ryan has my husband's phone and is unable to retrieve information from it.

I am thankful for the many mass cards and sympathy cards sent for my husband. I am happy many of us got to see Michael one more time before his final journey. I am appreciative that my stepsons Michael and Ryan agreed to having the wake in my husband's neighborhood as per my request. I am thankful to my sister-in-law Eileen for supporting her nephews Michael and Ryan during this stressful time in their lives.

I am impressed that many visitors saw how Mike and I were always lovebirds and also acknowledged how deeply in love we were. I smile inside reminiscing over the comments of people who hope and pray to have such deep a love that Mike and I have had for one another. I pray to God to help me through my upcoming days because I don't know what to do with being in love with a man who will not be coming home anymore after a hunting trip. I don't have the answers as of yet, but I am sure that I will get through it with the help and support of God, my children, daughters-in-law, sisters, brothers-in-law, friends, neighbors, and co-workers.

Bon Jour Michael

God bless us Everyone!

“ Michael,

Today all of your loved ones will be there in body and spirit to show their support and love. You have positively touched the lives of so many people in your short life span. You promised me a long life together. Although I feel you fell short on that promise, you provided a QUALITY life for us together. All of our neighbors and friends will always remember us holding hands on the front porch, or back porch, or getting into the car together. Many of the younger people want to grow up to be just like us. I love you my darling and I know you are touching all the souls up in heaven and watching over us here on Earth. Until the day when we are reunited I will try to be strong and be available for your sons. Rest In Peace My Love! I miss you terribly but I am happy you are not suffering in pain.

All My Love!

“ My Uncle Mike... He will be missed, very much.

He was the Uncle I saw the most and the Uncle most similar to my Dad, so I always liked being around uncle Mike. He was in my life from the first time i could remember. We always saw Uncle Mike, we always did holidays with Uncle Mike. Uncle Mike was always around for me when I was younger. I remember uncle mike always visiting me in the hospital, every time I was there. I remember many of Thanksgivings and Xmas's with Uncle Mike and his family. Before the age of 18 Uncle Mike was that one Uncle who always came to every special occasion or hosted one and we were always there, and I always looked forward to seeing him. The last great memory I have of Uncle Mike was when I left NY and moved to Indy he came by to help us pack, along with his two sons, my cousins Michael and Ryan. Before he left he gave me a great big hug and kiss and told me he loved me and said, make a great life for your Wife in indiana. Other than a few family functions since I moved here, I only saw Uncle Mike a handful of times. I remember all those times though because Uncle Mike was a hard guy not to remember. I feel sad that I did not get to see him one more time.

I want to offer my Condolences to his wife and to Michael and Ryan his two boys.

Until we see each other again Uncle Mike... I love you and miss you already.

“ My older brother- took me to my first movie, walked me to elementary school, we had a jitterbug dance we did together when I was about 6, so good looking in HS that he could have gone out with any girl he choose. He loved being in Alaska when drafted into the army. He loved the LI Islanders hockey team in the 70s. When his boys came along he was a devoted and proud Dad. He worked, worked, worked to give them a good life. When Natalie and Mikey, his grandkids, came along he was ecstatic. He called me twice a week but always about midnight. He enjoyed painting and drawing. He was an avid fisherman and hunter. He loved going up to his hunting cabin with his friends. On long trips he liked to listen to audio mysteries . He LOVED the coffee at Wawa. He was a long time member of the College Point and Flushing school boards. He was an addiction counselor and helped many many people. We had a great month last year in Florida- sitting at the pool, fishing on the beach, watching movies at night, going to a DooWop Oldies concert, going to movies, eating out, playing cards. He had a good time and wanted to go again this March. You could rely on Mike. He was there when I needed him. Say hi to Mom for me. The two of you can have a cup of WaWa coffee together.
