“ I remember Emily from bowling on Saturdays. You always had me laughing and you were very unique. I remember when you bet have I couldn't last a week being a Vegan and you were right. I am going to truly miss you. You were one of my close friends at bowling and even though you stop going to bowling I put you in my bowling team project for school. You taught me a lot and showed me how to have fun when I bowl. My prayers goes out to your family.

“ Although I did not know Emily, I know some of her family. I did know who she was, as she stood out in this neighborhood with her unique style that clearly allowed her wonderful personality to shine through. I am in awe of how many people have been speaking about her to me and all the comments that I have read about her. I pray Emily is at peace, and her family finds solace and comfort in their love for her. My heart is broken for all of them.

“ I want to send my prayers and sympathies to the family of this beautiful girl who is gone way too soon. Emily I didn't know you personally except for seeing you in the neighborhood and my niece was in school with you but by looking at pics that people have posted, your personality shines thru your smile. May you always watch over your family. They are amazing people and I hope that you will always be that Angel for them and let them know you are always with them. My deepest condolences to your family and friends that knew you and will always love you . May God give them strength to face every day and to somehow help them cope with the sorrow and emptiness they will always feel. You are truly an Angel that is Gone too soon but you will always be remembered in the hearts and minds of many RIP sweet Emily ??

“ I personally didn't know Emily. But i do send my condolences to her family. I would often see her walking home from school after getting off the bus, when i would wait for my son to get home from school, and Emily looked like determined young woman who wanted the most out of life. And she would always ride her skate board with her friends. RIP, Emily. I know you will be missed by your family and friends. You may no longer be here with them but you will always live in everyones heart.

my heart breaks for your family, gina. I know what you are going through, and your words speak of the desperation you feel in the loss. it is tragic. but the key to getting through it, at least for me, was what you said in the end.....'until we meet again'. the knowledge that you will once again be united with Emily is powerful and healing. she is not gone....she is just in another place, waiting. and her waiting is a lot easier than out waiting. I will be praying for you all.
